Letters To Our Future Selves

We were asked to write a paragraphed story to our future selves. We wrote it on the computer first and then wrote it in cursive writing on paper. We had to write about our lives and what we thought was going to happen in the future. We are putting the letters in our time capsule at our schools fiftieth anniversary. We are going to open the time capsule at the next big anniversary and I hope that there is going to be flying cars in the future.
